This position will be based at the Parkdale and Queen West sites. The regular schedule will be Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday, subject to change based on operational needs.

Responsibilities:

- Work closely with the Niiwin Wendaanimak team, Elders and the Indigenous Advisory Council to lead community engagement and partnership development in the Parkdale neighbourhood,
- Facilitate implementation of weekly Indigenous-specific programing in Parkdale, and support other Niiwin Wendaanimak programming throughout the mid-west region.
- Work to overcome individual and systemic barriers to services and to promote equitable treatment for Indigenous people who are marginalized and support
- Supervise volunteers & peer workers, as appropriate.
- Liaise with community agencies regarding issues relevant to client needs.
- Ensure program development, design and implementation in accordance with changing needs.
- Develop and practice within guidelines of appropriate protocols and policies.
- Maintain, coordinate and accurately report expenses and program data, and adhere to programme line budgets and funding report requirements.

Qualifications:

- Knowledge of Indigenous cultural practices and beliefs, and with traditional Indigenous healing practices.
- Knowledge and experience in community capacity building with the Indigenous Communities
- Experience working with people who are unsheltered and/or use substances
- Knowledge of traditional health, mental health and harm reduction approaches
- Strong communication and conflict resolution skills and crisis intervention skills
- Proficiency in the use of computers and various software applications.
- Excellent ability to take initiative and work independently, while also working within a multi-disciplinary team.
- Graduate degree in relevant discipline from a recognized university or an acceptable combination of education, training and professional experience.
- Indigenous ancestry will be prioritized

Compensation: $69,599 - $81,343, plus HOOPP (Healthcare of Ontario Pension Plan) option
